

This week's key Learning Behaviour is Perseverance.

Use this sheet to record those occasions when you have applied this key learning behaviour and kept going even when it was tough. This does include those times when you have had to stop and take a break but then have come back to complete your work.

There is also a space below to keep a tally of this week's team points...

Perseverance

Keep trying and never give up even when learning is difficult. A tortoise is slow but they persevere and get there in the end.

Annabelle_____has behaved like a 'Tortoise' at home by.....

Persevering with maths especially Fractions.

very proud of how Annabelle is coping with day to day homeschooling.
